The following are portions of a presentation and prepared remarks presented by Exxon Mobil Corporation and made available on Exxon Mobil Corporation’s website on December 6, 2023, as well as excerpts from Exxon Mobil Corporation public statements made on December 6, 2023.
Jennifer Driscoll

Good morning, everyone. Welcome to our Corporate Plan update. We appreciate your interest in ExxonMobil.

I’m Jennifer Driscoll, Vice President – Investor Relations. Joining me today are Darren Woods, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer, and Kathy Mikells, Senior Vice President and Chief Financial Officer.

This presentation and prerecorded remarks are available in the Investor Relations section of our website along with the Corporate Plan news release.

During the video webcast, which begins at 9:00 a.m. central time, Darren will provide opening comments and reference a few slides from this presentation.

That will give analysts more time to ask questions before we conclude at 10:00 a.m. central time.

Additional remarks on this slide will be provided during the discussion of the Corporate Plan Update.
In conjunction with our recent announcements regarding Pioneer Natural Resources, we’ve included additional information on slide 2 related to comments or information included in today’s presentation.

Please be aware that this presentation is not intended to be a solicitation of any vote or approval.

Additional remarks on this slide will be provided during the discussion of the Corporate Plan Update.
During the presentation, we’ll make forward-looking comments. We encourage you to read our cautionary statement on slide 3.

Additional information on the risks and uncertainties that apply to these comments are listed in our most recent Form 10-Ks and 10-Qs. Last, we also provided supplemental information in the appendix of our slides.

And now, please refer to slide 4 for Darren’s remarks.
Thanks, Kathy. Today we’ve shared our plan to create significant shareholder value with our current opportunity set. With the addition of Pioneer, the best pure-play company in the Permian Basin, the value for shareholders will be even greater.

Adding Pioneer gives us industry-leading undeveloped, tier-one, highly contiguous U.S. unconventional inventory. By combining the capabilities of our two companies, we expect to recover more resource, more efficiently, with better environmental performance, including the acceleration of Pioneer’s net-zero Permian ambition from 2050 to 2035.

We expect the transaction to generate an average of $2 billion per year in pre-tax synergies over the next decade, while delivering combined production of ~2 Moebd by the end of 2027.

With our technology, their acreage and the combined skills of our people, we expect to generate double-digit returns with an industry-leading low cost of supply. Importantly, the increase in short-cycle production improves our ability to adjust to changes in market conditions.

This acquisition is a win any way you look at it. It strengthens U.S. energy security, reduces impacts on the environment, and enhances returns for shareholders.

We’ll have more to say about this compelling combination at an Upstream Spotlight event we’ll be hosting after the transaction closes.

1 Based on ExxonMobil’s analysis of remaining U.S. unconventional inventory locations per 2023 Enverus’ reports.
2 Expected to leverage Permian GHG reduction plans to accelerate Pioneer’s net-zero emissions plan to 2035 from 2050; plan to lower both companies’ Permian methane emissions through new technology application.

Forward-Looking Statements

This communication contains “forward-looking statements” within the meaning of the federal securities laws, including Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. In this context, forward-looking statements often address future business and financial events, conditions, expectations, plans or ambitions, and often contain words such as “expect,” “anticipate,” “intend,” “plan,” “believe,” “seek,” “see,” “will,” “would,” “target,” similar expressions, and variations or negatives of these words, but not all forward-looking statements include such words. Forward-looking statements by their nature address matters that are, to different degrees, uncertain, such as statements about the consummation of the Merger and the anticipated benefits thereof. All such forward-looking statements are based upon current plans, estimates, expectations and ambitions that are subject to risks, uncertainties and assumptions, many of which are beyond the control of the Company and Pioneer, that could cause actual results to differ materially from those expressed in such forward-looking statements. Important risk factors that may cause such a difference include, but are not limited to: the completion of the Merger on anticipated terms and timing, or at all, including obtaining regulatory approvals that may be required on anticipated terms and Pioneer stockholder approval; anticipated tax treatment, unforeseen liabilities, future capital expenditures, revenues, expenses, earnings, synergies, economic performance, indebtedness, financial condition, losses, future prospects, business and management strategies for the management, expansion and growth of the combined company’s operations and other conditions to the completion of the Merger, including the possibility that any of the anticipated benefits of the Merger will not be realized or will not be realized within the expected time period; the ability of the Company and Pioneer to integrate the business successfully and to achieve anticipated synergies and value creation; potential litigation relating to the Merger that could be instituted against the Company, Pioneer or their respective directors; the risk that disruptions from the Merger will harm the Company’s or Pioneer’s business, including current plans and operations and that management’s time and attention will be diverted on transaction-related issues; potential adverse reactions or changes to business relationships resulting from the announcement or completion of the Merger; rating agency actions and the Company and Pioneer’s ability to access short- and long-term debt markets on a timely and affordable basis; legislative, regulatory and economic developments, including regulatory actions targeting public companies in the oil and gas industry and changes in local, national, or international laws, regulations, and policies affecting the Company and Pioneer including with respect to the environment; potential business uncertainty, including the outcome of commercial negotiations and changes to existing business relationships during the pendency of the Merger that could affect the Company’s and/or Pioneer’s financial performance and operating results; certain restrictions during the pendency of the Merger that may impact Pioneer’s ability to pursue certain business opportunities or strategic transactions or otherwise operate its business; acts of terrorism or outbreak of war, hostilities, civil unrest, attacks against the Company or Pioneer, and other political or security disturbances; dilution caused by the Company’s issuance of additional shares of its common stock in connection with the Merger; the possibility that the transaction may be more expensive to complete than anticipated, including as a result of unexpected factors or events; changes in policy and consumer support for emission-reduction products and technology; the impacts of pandemics or other public health crises, including the effects of government responses on people and economies; global or regional changes in the supply and demand for oil, natural gas, petrochemicals, and feedstocks and other market or economic conditions that impact demand, prices and differentials, including reservoir performance; changes in technical or operating conditions, including unforeseen technical difficulties; those risks described in Item 1A of the Company’s Annual Report on Form 10-K, filed with the SEC on February 22, 2023, and subsequent reports on Forms 10-Q and 8-K, as well as under the heading “Factors Affecting Future Results” on the Investors page of the Company’s website at www.exxonmobil.com (information included on or accessible through the Company’s website is not incorporated by reference into this communication); those risks described in Item 1A of Pioneer’s Annual Report on Form 10-K, filed with the SEC on February 23, 2023, and subsequent reports on Forms 10-Q and 8-K; and those risks described in the registration statement on Form S-4 and accompanying prospectus available from the sources indicated above. References to resources or other quantities of oil or natural gas may include amounts that the Company or Pioneer believe will ultimately be produced, but that are not yet classified as “proved reserves” under SEC definitions.
These risks, as well as other risks associated with the Merger, are more fully discussed in the proxy statement/prospectus included in the registration statement on Form S-4 filed with the SEC in connection with the Merger. While the list of factors presented here and the list of factors presented in the registration statement on Form S-4 are considered representative, no such list should be considered to be a complete statement of all potential risks and uncertainties. Unlisted factors may present significant additional obstacles to the realization of forward-looking statements. We caution you not to place undue reliance on any of these forward-looking statements as they are not guarantees of future performance or outcomes and that actual performance and outcomes, including, without limitation, our actual results of operations, financial condition and liquidity, and the development of new markets or market segments in which we operate, may differ materially from those made in or suggested by the forward-looking statements contained in this communication. Neither the Company nor Pioneer assumes any obligation to publicly provide revisions or updates to any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, future developments or otherwise, should circumstances change, except as otherwise required by securities and other applicable laws. Neither future distribution of this communication nor the continued availability of this communication in archive form on the Company’s or Pioneer’s website should be deemed to constitute an update or re-affirmation of these statements as of any future date.

Actions needed to advance the Company’s 2030 and 2035 greenhouse gas emission-reductions plans are incorporated into its medium-term business plans, which are updated annually. The reference case for planning beyond 2030 is based on the Company’s Energy Outlook research and publication. The Outlook is reflective of the existing global policy environment, the Energy Outlook does not attempt to project the degree of required future policy and technology advancement and deployment for the world, or the Company, to meet net zero by 2050. As future policies and technology advancements emerge, they will be incorporated into the Outlook, and the Company’s business plans will be updated accordingly. Actual future results, including the achievement of net zero in Upstream Permian Basin unconventional operated assets by 2030/2035 and plans to lower methane emissions from operated assets, to increase water recycling in our combined Permian operations, and to feed hydrogen, ammonia, and carbon capture projects could vary depending on the ability to execute operational objectives on a timely and successful basis; policy support for emission-reduction products and technologies; changes in laws, regulations and international treaties regarding lower emission technologies and projects; government incentives; unforeseen technical or operational difficulties; the outcome of research efforts and future technology developments, including the ability to scale projects, technologies, and markets on a commercially competitive basis; changes in supply and demand and other market factors affecting future prices of oil, gas, and petrochemical products; the actions of competitors; and other factors discussed in this communication and in the additional forward looking statement disclaimer included above.

All references to production rates, project capacity, resource size, and acreage are on a gross basis, unless otherwise noted.
